Mayor Dane Slater,

Often when you receive a letter it is a complaint, or criticism. This letter is not the case.

When we came out of the worst winter in Michigan history. Every city had experienced road damage, Troy seemed worst than others, Troy patched as soon as it was able, but you didn't stop there like so many other citys. Major portions of road started to be replaced with new concrete, including the road between civic center and Rivernois. I was very surprised that was addressed this year. Mayor you and your team have done an excellent job of starting toward much better roads in Troy. Many of the surrounding cities have not even done a fraction of what you have done for Troy. This might be a future career, to show other cities how to do what you and all the people in the process, have accomplished this year. If I may suggest, and you may be I have something in the works already the worldwide marketing and promotion of the city of Troy. To get back to the tax base Troy enjoyed in the past people, companys have and should have Troy on there minds. When choosing a city to invest in in metro Detroit, Troy is a great city to live in and do business in, more people in a position to make a decision need to know that.

Finally one thing that can save money on salt and destruction of road bed would be talking to cities & counties that ajoin Troy, that the salting of both cities and counties should be talked over and much less used on those roads such as Dequindre Rd. Until Troy did all of the work Dequ. & 15 mile, the road turning left, W. on 15 mile was almost undrivable,

Again Thankyou for your time. Jane Lee
