July 30, 2013

Dear Mayor Slater and City Council members,

I wanted to let you know how much help Cindy Stewart, Shawn Polito, and Dan Sigler were in putting together Troy Public Library's panel discussion, "What Employers Really Want." I contacted Cindy about recording the session for WTRY, Troy's cable channel, and she and her staff made it happen.

Fifty-one people attended the program, which was also recorded for the City of Troy's YouTube channel, and for viewing on WTRY. The program is part of the Library's "Computer Skills for the Job Seekers" series, which is normally limited to 16 people. Recording the session for the City's YouTube channel, as well as broadcasting it on WTRY, makes the content accessible to the entire community, and allows everyone to benefit by the information.

Cindy, Shawn and Dan were well organized, very professional, and offered some great tips to help make the program more dynamic, especially the interaction with the panelists. I appreciate their help and support, because without them, it would not be available to a wider audience.

Programs like this provide valuable information to assist with skill building and to enrich people's lives—this is what Troy Public Library is all about. I am so pleased we were able to offer this program to the community, and hope to run it again in the near future.

Sincerely,

Cathleen Russ
Troy Library Director
